speaker at a mass meeting which will be held at the Odeon Saturday night under the auspiess of the toint committee for a free municipal bridge.

President Ringslant is delighted with Governor Folk's agreeing to appear, which information was conveyed vesterday in a telegram from the Governor.

The Governor's appearance and speech will, be trusts, add influence to the free-bridge movement. Election Commissioner Schnurmacher will also deliver an address.

President Kingsland calls the mass meeting an "old-fashioned revival of patriotism." The motto which the committee has adopted is: "No bridge no bonds."

President Kingsland hopes to carry out the idea of an "old-fashioned revival of patriotism" by attention to all details of the meeting.

Doctor Palmer Said if Money Was From Fund to Provide for Poor He Would Not Be Pres

"If the money to pay for this turkey dinner comes from the funds that have been given by public-spirited citizens to provide for the poor of the city, then I cannot accept this invitation," said the Reverend Doctor Palmer yesterday morning when the Presbyterian Ministers' Association was invited to dine at the Provident Association Home.

Doctor Palmer explained that a funeral prevented him from attending the dinner, but, he said, he could not refrain from protesting against the acceptance of the invitation if the circumstances were as he believed them to be.

but, be said, he could not refrain from protesting against the neceptance of the invitation if the circumstances were as he believed them to be.

He said the money of charitably inclined people is given to aid the poor, and not to feed ministers and others who can well afford to take care of themselves. Doctor paimer explained that he could not see the purpose of inviting the members of the association, and in view of current criticism ament public charities he thought it inadvisable to place the ministerial body in a position where it aiso might be the subject of adverse comment.

Other ministers hastened to explain that it was not understood that a turkey dinner was to be provided, but only the regular fare which is daily dealt out to the poor dependent upon the institution. This, however, did not satisfy Doctor Palmer, who said that even if such was the case it would cost several dollars to feed some thirty men, and he did not think the Provident Association was justified in taking the money which had been given for other purposes.

The Reverend Doctor C. L. Chalfant of Grace Presbyteran Church said that, in view of the comments made about the Provident Association was justified in taking the money the invitation unless it was understood that all were to pay for the meal, it was as finally with this under standing that a majority of those present consented to go, but several including Doctor Palmer, refused even then to be included in the number.

The bill of fare which had been prepared for the ministers included soup, meat, potatoes, bread and butter, ginger bread and coffee.

Mr. McClain, general manager of the Provident Association, stated that with

Mr. McClain, general manager of the Provident Association, stated that with the exception of the ginger bread, the meal was the regular fare, served, to the people employed in the various departments of the association.

He said the purpose in inviting ministers to dine at the home is to acquaint them with the workings of the institution and that so far the matter as to who was to pay the extra portions served to them had not been decided, but no doubt the members of the board would make some provision at their regular meeting to-day.

would make some provision at their regular meeting to-day.

Last week the ministers of the M. E. Church, South, were the guests of the Provident Association and next week the ministers of the Christian Church will be invited.

Some of the ministers yesterday stated that in view of current criticism the invitation of the Provident Association appeared as though it was intended to place them in the position where they could not comment adversely on the methods of the organization. This, however, was emphatically dealed by Mr. McClain, At the conclusion of the dinner yester; At the conclusion of the dinner yester-day the ministers entended a vote of thanks to the Provident Association, but their money was refused.

United States Judge, at Chicago, Rules That Interstate Commerce Commission Is Incompetent to Enforce Orders.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Judge Bethea in the United States Circuit Court to-day decided that the order issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission directing that the railroad rates on live stock between the Missouri River and Chicago be lowered in conformity with the rates on dressed beef was Illegal.

The Chicago Great Western and seventeen other corporations were the defendants in two suits brought by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The first related to the decision of the commission regarding lowering of rates on live stock to a point where they would conform with the rates on dressed beef. The second was an application on the part of the commission for an injunction against the railroads, prohibiting them from refusing to lower the rates.

Several weeks were consumed by the introduction of expert testimony, and the court considered the evidence for two weeks. In summing up the case, Judge Bethea declared that there was no evidence of collusion on the part of the railroads, and that the rates on live stock were not a discrimination. He held further, that the interstate commerce decree was not binding on the railroads and that the commission had not be power to compel the railroads to obey their rulings.

MAN FROM CENTRAL WEST MAY SUCCEED HARDING.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Nov. 28.—Russell Harding, who suddenly resigned the vice presidency of the Eric Rathroad, and who last week promised to issue a statement "in a few days," giving the causes leading to his retirement, has postponed action on this line. ine Mr. Harding said to-day that he would probably leave this city by the end of the week, to return about December I, when he might have an announcement to make.
He denied that there was any truth in the reports circulated widely that he would become identified either with the Interborough or the Metropolitan Street Railway companies.
It was admitted that all talk of Mr.
Harding's successor was mere conjecture. It was admitted that all talk of Mr. Harding's successor was mere conjecture. No one had been thought of to fill the vacancy. It is not unlikely that a man connected with some of the lines operating in the Central West will be asked to take the position. There is a lamentable scarcity of operating officials in the East, and the Eric officials who would speak on the subject acknowledged that they could not name a single man who was capable of succeeding Mr. Harding.
